

Performance-based Learning and Skill Assessments

Serious about building skills? You need a hands-on approach.

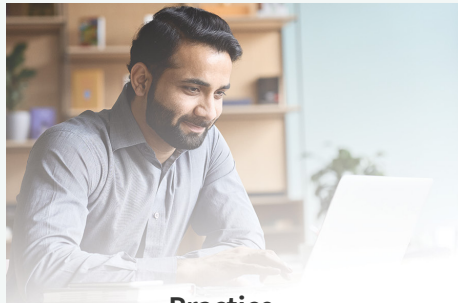

Assess current skills

Validate the skills your people have or hone-in on potential gaps by assessing their skills with our hands-on learning experiences.

With 60+ hands-on labs added each month, we support the most important key technical and digital skills of today, including:

- Cybersecurity
- Data analysis
- Cloud technology
- Numerous programming languages

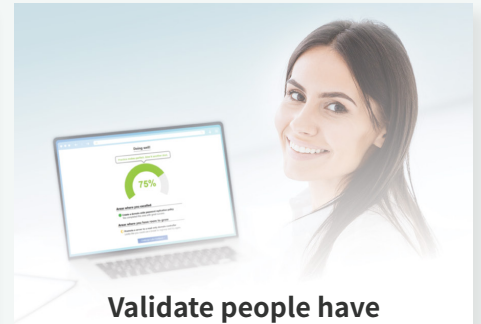

Practice skills

You've heard it before: Practice makes perfect. The same applies to developing skills: We learn best by doing.

Modernize the traditional skill journey and learning pathways to include hands-on and experiential learning opportunities in real-world scenarios.

We have a library of 1100+ (and growing) ready-built templates and a rich authoring studio that gives you the ability to fully customize pre-built labs to fit your needs.

Validate people have the skills you need

Know it? Prove it!

Our hands-on labs include job and environment-specific scenarios for the ultimate verification of capability.

Each experience is scored, giving you and your people real-time validation of skill level or skills attained, as well as valuable skill data.

Skillable provides hands-on experiences to help you develop and validate technical and digital skills for your employees, customers and partners.
